

Client registers as a user of the system

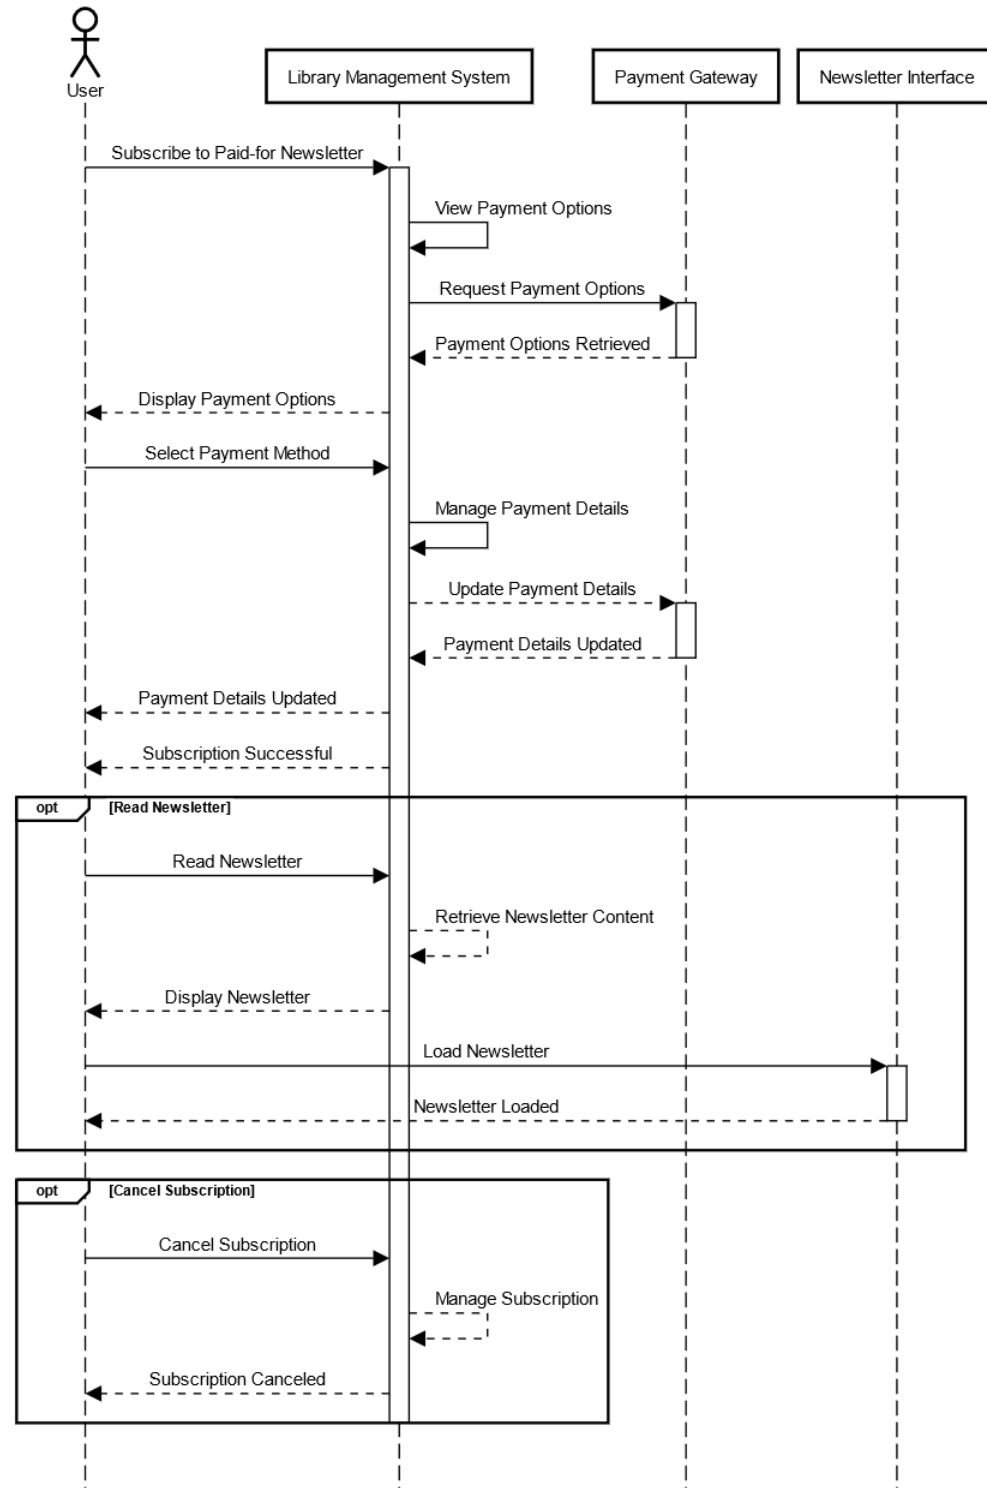

User requests for a book

Managers can manage details of items

User buys a newsletter

User searches for physical items

